

PLACES BIG ORDER FOR NEW EQUIPMENT

Grande Reported to Be Buying $5,000,000 Worth of Rolling Stock.

DENVER, July 26.—The Times today says that the Denver & Rio Grande railroad has placed an order for $5,000,000 worth of new equipment, making the largest single order ever placed by a Colorado railroad. The order includes eight big Mallet compound locomotives, to be used over the heavy grades of the mountain section, twenty-two other engines and 4000 steel coal and freight cars. Besides these, ten steel passenger coaches and ten steel baggage and express cars are included.

In view of the fact that Charles H. Black, vice president of the Denver & Rio Grande, recently announced that $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 could be expended by the road shortly, it seems reasonable to assume that the correctness of the report. A great deal of improvement will be necessary before the Western Pacific railroad is opened and it seems likely that rolling stock for the new Rio Grande extension, as it has been termed, might be included in the big order reported to have been placed by the Denver & Rio Grande.

COMMUNICATION STATES WHY CHICAGO WAS CHOSEN

D. E. Burley, general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line, has received a following communication from E. O. O'Brien, assistant general passenger agent of the Chicago & North Western, explaining why Chicago was selected as the place to hold the proposed land exhibition. "Chicago was selected rather than any other city because of the fact that the United States government receives more money from the city of Chicago than from any other city in the world. Chicago is in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Michigan have become so valuable that they have found their way to the city. Chicago is the most important city in the world and the most important city in the world."

Mr. Worsley was traveling with headquarters in this city. Mr. Worsley also was formerly city passenger agent of the Colorado Midland railroad in this city, and he also served time in the city of Denver for a long time. He is very well known among the people of this city and is a railroad man.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Several good real estate deals are being made in this city. A lot of 100,000 ft. in prospect that at least two of them will be definitely closed within a week.

The Salt Lake Security and Trust company made two sales Monday, both being Hamilton place, running north from South street, between State and Third East streets. Mr. Frampson, who is prominent business man of Pleasant Grove, will move his family here, and establish his business in Salt Lake City as soon.

The Home Investment and Savings company bought the northwest corner of 5, block 84, plat C, on the corner of Sixth West and Fourth North streets, in Ephraim, Idaho, for $1000, and sold modern cottage between Third and Fourth North streets on Sixth West for $2500.

The Mahan Investment company on Monday sold a seven-room modern frame house on Tenth South, near Eighth East, belonging to A. H. Shaw, to J. Foulger for $2500.

$8500 residence is to be built and shod within three months for J. F. Foulger on Federal Heights, on a lot purchased from A. H. Birrell & Co. Architects. B. O'Connell has drawn the plans for an exterior in shingle, with a hard oak vapor heating system and a finished billiard room in the basement.

The real estate market is expected to rather quiet until after the G. A. R. convention, when it will probably resume the recent flourishing activity.

TEN THOUSAND FLAGS TO BE GIVEN AWAY

What home is there in Salt Lake that is not to be found unprovided with a flag, handsome American pennant waving over the home to greet the scarred veterans that will pay a tribute to our beautiful city during the G. A. R. encampment in the next couple of weeks?

There are hundreds of homes without flags of the larger size. Realizing this fact and the importance of the occasion, we have purposely secured an additional lot of 10,000 more flags, handsome American emblems to be given away.

These flags are of the very best material obtainable. Neatly stitched, substantially constructed with view to durability. The kind with green crests for anchors.

The colors are GUARANTEED AB-SOLUTELY FAST. The size of the flags is 2 1/2 x 4 ft. They are to be given away under the following conditions: Just secure as a subscriber for The Tribune for two months and we will give you one flag. A still better proposition is offered: If you are a subscriber to The Tribune for three months and we will present you with one flag, measuring 5 x 8 ft. For further particulars, call or phone W. M. ROAD RAISES FARE TO LAGOON RESORT

Adults Must Pay 50 Cents and Children 25 Cents After August 1.

Owing to the fact that the patronage at the Lagoon has proven too great this summer for the Salt Lake & Ogden railroad to properly handle with the limited amount of available rolling stock, and in view of the fact that the management does not feel justified in purchasing any more steam equipment, as the electrification of the road will have been completed before the Lagoon opens next summer, the company, in order to lessen the attendance, has raised the fare to that resort and return from all stations on the line to 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children over 5 years of age and under 12 years, to take effect August 1. The management of the company also announced that the new order will not affect the G. A. R. veterans, who will be furnished with free transportation to the resort during the week of the national encampment. Free tickets will be issued to them upon the presentation of their credentials at the general office of the company.

HIGH CHURCHMAN ENTERS POLYGAMY

by President Wilford Woodruff October 6, 1890, in the following language:

"Inasmuch as laws have been enacted by congress forbidding plural marriage, which laws have been pronounced constitutional by the court of last resort, I hereby declare my intention to submit to these laws and to use my influence with the members of the church over which I preside to have them do likewise.

"There is nothing in my teachings to the church or in those of my associates during the time specified, which can reasonably be construed to inculcate or encourage polygamy, and when any elder of the church has used language which he has been promptly reprimanded, and I now publicly declare that my advice to the Latter-Day Saints is to refrain from contracting any marriage forbidden by the law of the land.

Manifesto Adopted.

This manifesto was adopted by the Mormon people in conference assembled October 6, 1890. Subsequently, in giving his evidence under oath, before Master in Chancery Lofthorow, President Joseph F. Smith testified that the document also prohibited unlawful cohabitation.

And yet nearly twenty years after the issuance of that disclaimer of plural marriage, a high ecclesiastical in Salt Lake is discovered entering the polygamous fold. This but a few months after the comparatively recent plural marriage of Bishop Muir of Farmington was disclosed, and for one that is discovered domestic scores are entered into but never brought to the light of day.

It is said that the case of Higgs and Miss Badger will be investigated by church authorities, in fact is now being investigated, and that Higgs will be given a church trial and probably dis-fellowshipped. C. S. Martin, counselor to Bishop Christensen, would not discuss the matter when asked about it by a Tribune representative. He said he expected the case would come before him as one of the bishops of the ward, and he did not think it would be judicious of him to discuss the case beforehand.

Neighborhood Gossip. The entire neighborhood in Higgs's vicinity is discussing the matter. Higgs's little children have told the neighbors' boys and girls "That papa has gone away," and the case has created quite a furore in the district. Of Miss Badger it is said she is a child of polygamous parents and the virtues of plural marriage have been extolled to her all her life, and that this is the fruit of the preaching. Polygamy is being daily taught the children and young men and young women of the church. One never hears a voice raised against it, all are in unison in its eulogy, and so long as it is preached as a virtue it will be practiced.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM OF HUMANITY BEFORE JUDGE OF THE POLICE COURT

When Judge Bowman opened police court on Monday morning he was greeted by ten bewildered specimens of the fotsam and jetsam of humanity who were lined up on the bench of the court. They had not long to wait, for as Judge Bowman listened to the time-worn excuses, he scattered, with a laconic hand, fines and sentences. One quaint specimen arose and told the court that he had been immortalized when Kipling wrote "The Absent-Minded Beggar." Judge Bowman was of opinion that specimens of "The Thoughtless Mendicant" were not needed in Salt Lake City, and the specimen of immortal fame was given a few hours' time to leave the city.

Minnie Will, an Assyrian, grew strangely forgetful of the English language when she appeared in court. After the court and all of the court's officials had listened long and earnestly in an attempt to translate the jargon Minnie was using, everybody gave up the job as a bad one, and to the relief of all concerned, Judge Bowman dismissed the case. Minnie had been haled into court and charged with using abusive language, but she forgot both the profane and the English languages.

When John O'Brien arose before Judge Bowman, charged with begging on the streets, he claimed that he had been begging for tobacco. The patrolman who had made the arrest was equally sure that O'Brien had been begging money. After Judge Bowman had looked into the facts of the case he handed O'Brien thirty days.

Harry Prushell, who was charged with making a nuisance of himself on the streets of the city by accosting strangers, attempted to tell the court that the officer who had arrested him was wrong about the facts. After Judge Bowman had listened to his tale of woe he was trundled back again to jail and will appear before the court on Tuesday.

Judge Bowman smiled when he listened to Pat McCarty. Everybody smiled. Pat became oratorical in the following manner: "Why, yer honor, I was not drunk. That cop who pinched me was soused. Soused to the ears all right, all right. He had a here on and he just thought I was drunk. Now, I'll leave it to yourself if that's a good reason to send me to the jug." Judge Bowman sent him, "all right, all right."

Fred Foster drew a prize of ninety days' work fixing the roadways about the city. Last Friday night Foster asked Ed Berry for 10 cents, and when Berry refused Foster hit him in the head with a beer glass. Judge Bowman told Foster that the head of Ed Berry was not the proper place for a beer glass, and gave Foster ninety days' time in which to think over that advice.

COSTUMES FOR LIVING FLAG CHILDREN WILL BE GIVEN TO THEM THIS MORNING

There should be a happy lot of children who assemble in the big auditorium on Richards street Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, for the regular practice in the exercises to be carried out on the day of the big Grand Army parade, for each one will be provided with a complete outfit of cape and cap, with a sash. A copy of the articles of the Pine Creek Irrigation company of Escalante, Garfield county, was filed with the secretary of state. The capital stock is $2500, divided into shares of the par value of $25 each. The company owns 327 acres of land and will construct irrigation works to water the same. J. C. Lay is president; J. S. Barney, vice president; A. Y. Griffin, secretary and treasurer. These, with N. B. Roudy and George Davies, constitute the board of directors. Officers of the Women's Citizens committee reported that the inquiries concerning accommodations for visitors continue to be received and the applicants are assigned to rooms just as soon as possible. There is apparently no question but the city is going to be somewhat jammed for accommodations during the encampment, but there seems to be a disposition on the part of the citizens to respond to all calls for rooms, and all the old veterans will undoubtedly be well cared for.

There is a good deal of talk among some realty men of filling the rooms of some of their vacant houses in different parts of the city with beds and renting these to the visitors at so much per night. In some instances these houses will provide accommodations for as many as twenty or more persons a night. The houses are generally new and will provide excellent accommodations for sleeping purposes.

QUARANTINE ORDERED BECAUSE OF GLANDERS

State Veterinarian Will Not Allow Horses Shipped From Emery and Carbon.

Horses in Emery and Carbon counties are afflicted with glanders, according to Dr. Young, state veterinarian, and he has accordingly ordered a quarantine, which will prevent the shipment of horses from those counties unless they can pass the Mallien test.

Dr. Young has inspected a number of animals in those two counties and found that the horses were afflicted with glanders. Efforts to stop the shipment of diseased horses from there by ordinary methods did not accomplish results, and drastic remedies must be applied and the quarantine results.

Dr. Young is determined to stamp out disease among animals in the state. He was connected with the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture for a number of years and is a graduate in veterinary surgery. The act of the legislature creating his office gives him ample power to enforce a strict quarantine whenever necessary and this he proposes to do.

JAMES IS SATISFIED WITH RATE ON LEAD

He Sends Wire to Senator Smoot and Receives Reply: How Matter Stands.

W. F. James, head of the Utah Ore Producers' association, on Monday received the following telegram from Senator Smoot:

Washington, D. C., July 26. William F. James, Salt Lake City, Utah.—Lead rates agreed to by conference same as Dingley rate, with exception of one-eighth cent per pound on lead in pigs and bars. One rate unchanged. Differential between ore and pig is one-half cent per pound. I consider this splendid victory in the face of great opposition against lead rates.

After reading the above dispatch, Mr. James said to The Tribune: "I am very much pleased with the result as stated. The main point was to prevent any reduction of the duty on lead in ores. This is where the cut would

JUVENILE COURT WARDS TAKE IN THE CIRCUS

"Should the juvenile court of Salt Lake City hold sessions on circus days?" All the wards of the court and small boys who should have appeared for a hearing apparently decided that question in the negative on Monday, for with the exception of one girl, none of them showed up at court and the result was that no session was held. A number of boys were cited to appear before the court for a hearing and others should have made their regular report to the officers of the court, but they didn't.

Consequently, Judge Gowan gazed about the room at the empty benches for a few minutes and then continued the one case wherein the juvenile did appear to a future date and adjourned court.
